World's best street food festivals

Some everywhere has a food festival these days, or at least an event to sell assorted paper bowls of pulled pork, sausage, and so on.

For the dedicated ones, the market is global, and the festival is a global phenomenon. The global street food festival scene is growing, and there are some of the world's best festivals.

WIFF Festival (Wilmington International Food Festival) is the largest food festival in the state of North Carolina. It's a multi-day event that features a variety of food trucks, live music, and other entertainment.

OCF Festival (Orange County Fair) is a multi-day event that features a variety of food trucks, live music, and other entertainment.

Annual Golden Sprites Festival (Golden Sprites Festival) is a multi-day event that features a variety of food trucks, live music, and other entertainment.

Barbecue Festival (Barbecue Festival) is a multi-day event that features a variety of food trucks, live music, and other entertainment.

How to start a Food Truck Business

A food truck is like a restaurant on wheels. It has several distinct advantages over a traditional eat-in restaurant. A food truck can be set up in a busy location, and it can be moved to a new location if the current one is not working out. However, a food truck is not a license that you can get away with.

Before you set up shop in a busy location, you need to do your homework. You need to know the local market, and you need to know the competition. You also need to know the regulations and permits that you will need to operate a food truck in your area.
